

LOOKING FOR ARTS VACANCIES

JOB OPPORTUNITIES IN THE ARTS

Many jobs in the creative field are not advertised but found through personal contacts and networking. You can also research the type of employer you are interested in and approach them directly with a well tailored CV, portfolio or personal profile.

It is essential when targeting employers, to research their profile, client base and style, to establish and target a personalised approach to the right company and the right individual.

Good sources of information are the following directories (on reference in the careers service at Somerset Place)

Creative Handbook, The Marketing & Creative Handbook, Art World Directory, Guardian Media Guide and Film and Television Handbook
